

BSAPCH BRAVO AWARD

Terms and Conditions

- Only full members of BSAPCH can compete for the prize.
- Junior members will have the priority for this prize.
- The applicant will be asked to present a proof of acceptance or presentation of their work.
- No eligible member can apply for the initiative for two years/conferences in a row, but they can apply on alternate years. This is to give the opportunity to a larger number of members to benefit from this initiative.
- The application for the award ends by the 30th of September of each year and the results to be published by the 1st of December of the same year.
- Applications made by the 30th of September for each year cover the scientific work accepted for conference presentation/publication for the preceding 12 months.
- The judging sub-committee is to be selected and agreed on by the BSAPCH executive committee and can include experts who are not members of the association.
- Different conferences/journals may have different impact values and this will be considered during the selection process.
- BSAPCH does not interfere in the process of abstract preparation, editing and submission to the relevant conferences/journals, which will be the responsibility of the applicant.
- The initiative will pay a defined financial prize for the winning authors. The sum of the prize is to be agreed on by the BSAPCH EC and can change every year accordingly.
- In the event that BSAPCH is made aware of any wrong or misleading information provision or any act of dishonesty in any way by an applicant, the association reserves the right to withdraw the applicant name from the competition and may take further actions as agreed by the judging committee at the time.
- Appeals and complaints regarding the process can be submitted to the BSAPCH executive committee via the email info@bsapch.co.uk or the contact link on the website, using BRAVO COMPLAINT as a subject line.
- BSAPCH reserves the right to withdraw/withhold this initiative without prior notice if required at any time.
